

A large, empty rectangular area with rounded corners and a decorative border of small circles, intended for text or notes.

A large rectangular area with rounded corners, outlined in black. The interior of this area is filled with a grid of small, evenly spaced circles, resembling a dot grid or perforated paper. The grid covers most of the page, leaving margins on the top, bottom, and right sides, and a larger margin on the left side where the binder holes are located.

